Sunday, National "Mother's Day", was observed in the many churches of the county and elsewhere in the state. A nice Sunday School was held at Galilee under the direction of Supt. John A. Watson, and a good audience turned out for the morning worship at the 10 o'clock hour.

A very inspiring "Mother's Day" service was held at First Baptist Church, with the Rev. Davis, of Lynchburg in charge of the morning worship. The choirs of the church rendered lovely music, with Mrs. H. P. James at the piano. An appreciative audience turned out for the 11 o'clock hour. A number of visitors attended the service and gained helpful information to take home and ponder over. The offeringwas good.

Ms. Gracie Branch, who has been ill for the past two weeks, is back on her feet again. We are all happy to learn the good news. Ms. Branch wishes to thank her neighbors and friends for the kindness shown her during her illness. She thanks God for causing all of you to respond in such a fine way toward her in her hour of dire need. Many, many thanks again. May God continue to pour out upon you His rich blessings.

work with the program for Special Education for exceptional children.

Peyton informed the board members that he had received a letter from Edwin P. White, Assistant Supervisor, Science Division of Elementary Education, Richmond, Virginia, commending Appomattox Primary and Intermediate schools.

Mr. White wrote, "after having made four visits and having attended numerous meetings and workshops during the last four months in Appomattox Schools, I would like to express my 'good feeling' about your school system. Probably the most important reaction to Appomattox Schools and professional staff is the openness of your personnel. It may well be that Appomattox can become a recognized leader in the area of elementary education in the years to come." He continued, "Generally schools that I visit indicate that they are trying to remedy all their ills in a single year and actually accomplish little or nothing. It appears that because of the leadership you and your staff have provided Appomattox has not fallen into the trap."

The Appomattox School system should truly be commended on their primary and intermediate science program.

Stonewall Club

On Thursday, May 10, 1973, the Stonewall Extension Homemaker's Club met at the home of Lillian Routon, with six members present.

The president called the meeting to order, and Mrs. Ronton led the devotions, reading from Psalm 117.

The minutes were read and approved, and the treasurer's report was given. Because of our small attendance these past months, we discussed way of increasing our membership. We also discussed the upcoming trip to Cartier's Grave, as well as ideas for the Feteration program.

We then adjourned our business meeting with the Homemaker's Creed, and Prayer; and our Family Life leader demonstrated "New Breakfast Ideas."

Red Cross Seeks Relief Funds

In twenty states since March 17, more than 28,620 families have been made homeless and otherwise affected.

Frank Stanton, new chairman of the national Red Cross in his first inspection of a disaster area since taking office on April 1, told a news conference that "the Red Cross needs money very much - we are at the bottom of the barrel."

George M. Elsey, Red Cross president said in a wire to chapters of the organization across the country, "In view of continuing and widespread suffering among disaster victims, we urge you to make public appeal for funds. The Red Cross will continue to meet the emergency needs of disaster victims for shelter, food, essential clothing and other necessary items."

In the fiscal year we are currently in, the Red Cross has expended over 28 million dollars, for disaster relief.

The Red Cross during this calendar year has expended the following: $15,000; Carolinas Division Floods, $41,000; Carolinas Snowstorm $50,000; Great Lakes Floods, $15,000; Central Texas Tornadoes, $50,000; Southeastern States Floods and Tornadoes, $1,050,000; Michigan Floods and Snowstorms, $47,300; St-State Floods (Illinois-Missouri), $200,000; Georgia-So.
